Who May Attend: Student Council members and other leadership groups in your school

Presenter: Doug Erickson, MASSP Coordinator of Student Activities

Doug is a former middle-level teacher at Palatine Middle School in Palatine, Illinois and former leadership teacher at Orono High School. He has done many one-day leadership workshops for middle level/junior high students in Minnesota. He has also presented to middle-level students and advisors at the National LEAD conferences. Doug has won for the Earl Reum National Workshop Presenter of the Year.

Conference Schedule:

9:00 a.m. Registration

9:15 a.m. Introductions

9:30 a.m. Presentation of "Anatomy of Leadership"

Doug will take the middle level students through a series of leadership activities that will analyze their leadership styles. Through this analysis, the students will be able to utilize their strengths to make their councils more effective and their schools a better place to be. Medical terminology will be used throughout the workshop.

10:30 a.m. Student Presentations: Your school will have the opportunity to present your school's "Best Practice" idea. Come with handouts and be ready to share.

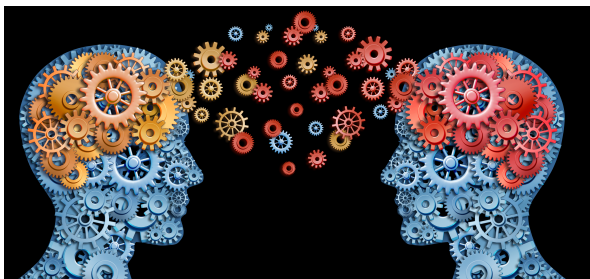

11:45 a.m. Lunch will be provided

12:30 p.m. Debriefing and Application: Students will sit down with their councils or leadership groups and look at their own school. They will apply the morning's presentation and make a plan to implement these concepts to their school. They will also discuss any ideas presented during the idea sharing portion of the workshop.

1:20 p.m. Final comments

We hope you will take advantage of this low-cost opportunity to receive content and start your students on a pattern of meeting young leaders from across the state.
